Since the release of KaraFun Studio, we are happy to see such many.The only thing that's retarded about this message board, is that it's filled with people who go to the best price on something and then complain about the price. In the meantime, they complain about not getting what they want for a price that they're not willing to pay. Basically, a self-fulfilling prophecy here. well, if you look into the entire history of the game, there has been the scourge of deflation (and flat out inflation) first, why does the game take a week to count all the coins? as in no more than 72 hours? at some point it should rather be an automated process, similar to a bill payments.. also you can see now how it always takes 3 months to change prices? and it's been that way for years, so why now? this is not new, and who says that the price can't have changed multiple times within a few hours? also, why is everything so cheap? especially the 2nd to last expansion pack? i mean, but really, you expect to get like 1 kp a month 3da54e8ca3
