A: If you want to choose the app by path, then you should use apk-parser. Just extract the apk that you want and give the path to the folder where the extracted apk-folder is. If you don't know the path, just navigate to the apk that you want to find. On the other hand, if you want to use the app by "name", then you can try the app-optimizer tool. Just open the "menu" on the upper right-hand and click on "Manager". You can choose the app that you want from the list. From the result of the program, you can then select which app you want to run. Tintin - Explorers of the uncharted east release next week, January 16, in India. Buy now! A team of legendary explorers attempts a daring mission to recover a rare and powerful diamond whose possession would make anyone, even a king, their sovereign. An audacious rescuer, a wily gang of criminals, a dashing spy, and a former dancer of fortune - a girl with a dream and a will to survive, who plays dirty sometimes with good intentions - all could be the key to a great adventure. Directed by Cary Joji Fukunaga, this animated feature is based on the comics by Belgian author Hergé (get the book!). The cast of Tintin includes Andy Serkis as our hero, Simon McBurney, as Calculus, Mads Mikkelsen as Doctor Assad, Jake Johnson as Dupond, Nick Frost as Gorgik and Naomie Harris as Red Rackham's Treasure. Radioimmunoassays (RIAs) for specific proteins can be used to image localized sites of target proteins in the mammalian brain. Therefore, this imaging method is potentially applicable to the study of individual receptors and transmitter/transporter proteins, the regional distribution of peptides and small proteins (e.g., tachykinin, somatostatin, etc.), and the regulation of expression of receptor proteins and peptides in normal and diseased states. Radioimmunoassays may also be useful to determine basal levels of receptor protein in specific brain regions and their response to disease and drug treatments. This past Saturday, a YouTube user named "lil_motors" uploaded a video that was quickly taken down after they hit the lion's share of our PC gaming audience. The video in question is an anime adaptation of a popular mobile RPG developed by Cygames/DeNA, Fortune Quest, which was released back in August. The opening song is "Voltage," an action/jungle/fusion song composed by the same people that wrote the "Smile Power" song from this year's Prima Dona. The song is one of a few/fewest anime openings whose popularity can rival that
